Music Studio

We are now offering Saxophone lessons!

Introducing:
Mr. Zachry Taburaza

Zachry Taburaza holds a Master's in Instrumental Performance degree from the University of Nevada, Las Vegas with a concentration in classical saxophone. He also has a Bachelor's in Saxophone as well as Music Composition from California State University, Long Beach. Zachry has been playing saxophone since middle school and has played in various ensembles, such as wind band, jazz band, symphony orchestra, and saxophone quartet. Zachry has reinforced his music education by studying other instruments, such as piano, clarinet, guitar, and flute.

As an active North American Saxophone Alliance member, Zachry has attended academic lectures from world-class musicians and has even presented himself. He is always happy to share knowledge, no matter what age a student is. Zachry constantly searches for new ways to innovate and teach his craft. With this in mind, he seeks to teach his students by feeding their curiosity, as well as honing their technique.
